

Nexyan is hiring an actuary !

NEXYAN is specialized in Employee Benefit consulting. The company is based in Zaventem. We are a friendly team of 20 actuaries, legal and/or benefit consultants working together in a nice atmosphere.

More information can be found on <http://www.nexyan.be>.

NEXYAN is now looking for an actuary with approximately 1 to 5 years' experience to join its team.

We can offer you a motivating environment within a group of experienced actuaries and legal and/or benefit consultants.

You will further develop your knowledge and expertise of both the pension fund and the group insurance market. In addition, you will have plenty of opportunity to practice your actuarial/mathematical skills with the support of an experienced team, and also learn more about the applicable legislation.

We offer you an attractive salary package and learning opportunities by participating in complex and interesting projects.

Your profile:

- You have a master's degree in Actuarial Science, Economics, Business Engineering, Engineering or Mathematics
- You have approximately 1 to 5 years of experience
- You have the ambition to either become a technical expert in pensions who prefers to work mainly internally or a consulting actuary who is keen to be in contact with clients and to explain our work to laymen
- You are willing to work in a small team, where teamwork is key to success
- Apart from your actuarial/mathematical skills, you are willing to extend your knowledge about the pension legislation in order to be able to provide professional employee benefit advice.
- Fluent in either French or Dutch and very good knowledge of Dutch or French. Good knowledge of English is a plus.

If you recognize yourself in this profile do not hesitate to send your application to Karen Vande Sype kvs@nexyan.be.
