

NEXYAN is specialized in Employee Benefit consulting. The company is based in Zaventem. We are a friendly team of about 18 actuaries/benefit consultants working together in a nice atmosphere.

NEXYAN is now looking for a junior colleague to join its team.

We can offer you a motivating environment within a group of experienced actuaries and benefit consultants.

You acquire knowledge of both the pension fund and the group insurance market. You can practice and further develop your actuarial/mathematical skills with the support of an experienced team, but also develop the knowledge of the necessary legislation.

We can offer you a fascinating and diversified career with lots of fun. You will receive a competitive remuneration package.

Your profile:

- You have a master's degree in Actuarial Science, Economics, Business Engineering, Engineering or Mathematics
- You have maximum 3 years of experience
- You have the ambition to become a technical expert in pensions who prefers to work mainly internally or a consulting actuary who is keen to be in contact with clients and to explain our work to laymen
- You are willing to work in a small team, where teamwork is key to success
- Apart from your actuarial/mathematical skills, you are willing to extend your knowledge about the legislation on pensions in order to be able to provide professional employee benefit advice.
- Fluent in either French or Dutch, good knowledge of Dutch or French and of English

If you recognize yourself in this profile do not hesitate to send your application to Karen Vande Sype kvs@nexyan.be.
